Rain Covers a Large Section

Wheat Is Greatly Improved Because of .81 Inch Rains Received Over the Weekend

Rain over the week end amounted to .81 of an inch. The moisture Friday morning measured .20 of an inch; Sunday night, .58 of an inch; and the mist Tuesday morning amounted to .03 of an inch.

According to reports from over the area, these rains have been very spotted. A large section of the Panhandle received no rain. Other sections received as much as 3 inches.

Floyd Tomlinson, who farms extensively in this section, states that no rain was received in the Dimmitt territory and on the west and south.

Wheat that received rain has recovered rapidly from the heavy freeze of two weeks ago, and the prospects are fine for a normal yield with continued favorable moisture. Wheat which did not receive rain is said to be in a rather critical condition.

Farm-to-Market Roads 22 Miles

Road to Wayside Is Given First Place in County by Engineer to Commissioners

Randall county will not receive the amount of farm-to-market roads that was originally sought according to the District Highway Engineer who met with the Commissioners Court Saturday. There are 18 counties in this district and the total mileage of this type of road has been set by the State Highway Commission as 293 miles.

The purpose of the meeting Saturday was to decide upon the roads in Randall county which would serve the largest number of people. According to the investigation of the engineer, it was determined that the road running toward Wayside would be the No. 1 project in this county. This road started east from Highway 87 two miles south of Ralph and running east for 14 miles.

The No. 2 project is two miles of hard surfacing Western Avenue running south from Amarillo.

It is likely that Randall county will receive about 22 miles of farm-to-market road.

The engineer will consider other projects as follows: 1½ miles of hard surfacing from Umbarger to Buffalo Lake; 2 or more miles running west from Ralph; a road connecting Highway 87 with the elevator at Zita.

The highway engineer complimented the commissioner in the fine shape in which the application had been worked, and the sustaining data which was presented. Routes which rural routes and school busses travel will be considered by the State Highway Commission.

It was made plain Saturday that this was not a final meeting, as the department is seeking to gather all available data before any farm-to-market road is designated.

Lairs Have Word of Location of Son in Germany

On Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lair received a letter from the War Department telling them that their son, Lt. Tom Lair who is a prisoner of War in Germany was in Mandesburg, Germany, about 20 miles from Munich in Stalag VII, as far as they were able to determine.

While the Government said that it could give them no guarantee that Lt. Lair was there, they felt certain that he was. That was the destination of a group of prisoners that had been moved recently by the Germans to get them from the path of the Russian forces.

Since Mandesburg and Munich are now the object of the 3rd Army, the Lairs are quite hopeful that they will soon hear something from the Lieutenant who has been a prisoner since October 14, 1943.

OUR NEW PRESIDENT

It is hard to realize the change that has taken place in America since President Truman took office. We are certainly a United Nation.

Few Presidents have enjoyed such universal following as has been accorded Mr. Truman. The honeymoon may abruptly end one of these days, but for the present the new President is being wooed by Republicans as well as Democrats.

The humbleness of Truman as he assumes office appeals to the people. He admits that he had no sure fire remedy for the world's ills, and asks leaders of all parties to come to his aid.

According to those who have dug into his past, the President will certainly demand economy in government, once the war is ended, and certainly he is going to take into consideration the welfare of all the people rather than rewarding the favored few.

Perhaps one of the greatest services that President Roosevelt did the world was when he agreed to kick Wallace out and accept the rather unknown Truman as his running mate. Wallace and his friends are left high and dry. A campaign was ready to start to make Wallace the next Democratic candidate for President. It is stated that many of the leftists want to go right ahead with their plans, but the same ones want to wait for developments. If President Truman is able to hold the nation together during the coming three turbulent years, his place for another term is secure.

While the nation is thoroughly and completely united in the war effort, it will be the domestic policies which may break the prevailing unity. The war is going to be won very soon, but the peace problems will stack mountain high. There will be so many angles that the President cannot please everyone. As a matter of fact, judging from his past record, Truman will be pretty apt to set his course, after due study of these problems, and then drive to his objective without regard for the feelings of those who disagree. That is the only manner whereby he can accomplish any real benefits for the nation.

Of course the cabinet makers are busy. Various changes are being predicted. It is altogether unlikely that any changes will be made so long as the war is on, unless the President accepts the resignation of Madame Perkins, who has been trying to quit for months.

During the past week the Newsman has talked with scores of men from every walk of life. Never have we heard such universal praise for a President. Not one word of doubt has been expressed as to his ability to guide the nation through the coming tragic situations. His lack of alliances in foreign affairs may be his greatest asset as the difficult problems of peace confront him. The nation looks to him with confidence and will uphold his hands in his fight for peace.

Congressman May of the House Military Committee wants to know the truth about treatment of German prisoners in the United States. He is right. Too much loose talk has made the rounds about the manner of pampering these prisoners. Frankly, the people are upset and wonder what is right and just. It makes our blood boil to hear of the tragic treatment which has been given American prisoners both in Japan and Germany. It seems that the Germans are as brutal in the treatment of our men as the Japs have been. Shall we retaliate? That would be the human thing to do. But this nation subscribes to the policy of fair treatment to prisoners of war, and to deviate would make us ashamed of our actions in years to come. We must remember that during the heat of war people sometimes are led to do unwise things. Unjust treatment of prisoners of war, even for retaliation, breaks faith with international agreements.

We read the other day that a large group of German prisoners of war were working in a mill. Volunteers were asked for truck drivers. Only two of these Germans had ever driven trucks. The balance knew nothing about machinery. That is one reason that the mechanically minded American soldiers have been able to drive the Germans all the way from North Africa back to the homeland, and into their capital.

Governor Coke Stevenson has refused to call special sessions of the legislature in the past. He has seen just how useless most of these sessions have turned out to be. But the legislature is not satisfied. It is believed that there will be need for constitutional amendments to help iron out kinks regarding returning veterans after V-E Day. Amendments may be considered only in regular sessions. For that reason it is proposed to recess until September the present session, which will end next month. By this method constitutional amendments could be considered if any are deemed necessary. However, the members will draw only $5 per day, since the constitution provides $10 per day for the 120 day session, and $5 per day thereafter. There is no limit on the length of sessions which may be held, but the pay is automatically regulated. Some senators started the idea of a recessed session due to the fact that they want to pass on the appointments of the Governor after the legislature adjourns. The Senate has turned down the appointees in a number of cases since the start of the regular session. These Senators do not wish to see appointees serve for such a long time without senatorial approval. Since 1946 is a election year, there may be just a smattering of politics in the proposal, rather than any actual need. Who knows?

We thought some time ago that we would not say any more about this fellow Homer P. Rainey. Let him die on the withering political vine to which he is clinging. But we heard two things the other day which are good. One was the prediction that was made by one of the best known educators in Texas after it was announced that Rainey had been elected President of the University of Texas. This prediction was that Rainey would not last long on the job because he had never been able to get along on other jobs. The second prediction was that Rainey and his friends brought about the firing of president in order that he might have an excuse to run for governor in 1946 on the platform of vindication. We have said several times that we do not know Rainey; never saw him; but we have studied his record since he was fired from the presidency. From the record, we are sure that the Regents did a good job when Rainey was fired; and continued to do a better job when they refused to consider him as a candidate for reinstatement. If he wants to run for governor in 1946, that's his political funeral.

The Polish question seems to be the biggest fly in the United States ointment. Stalin has decided upon a course, and is determined to have his way in setting up a puppet government which shall be agreeable to him. Stalin does not intend being caught short again. While we are all preaching the doctrine of peace and goodwill, and how nations should give more than they take, Stalin has led Russia through the experience he does not wish to see repeated. While most Americans believe Stalin is wrong in his attitude of not allowing the Poles to settle their own problems, we wonder if we would not be just about as selfish had Germany invaded America.

A munition manufacturer over in Germany did a noble deed. He called all his head men for a banquet, fed them well, toasted Hitler, and then touched off a bomb which he had concealed under the banquet table. He and all his unholy associates were blown into eternity. It was the best job that any of his bombs had performed of ridding the world of undesirables.

FOLLY BROUGHT HOME

Practically everyone is in the habit of blaming the war exclusively for the dangerous growth of government control over the people. The plain fact is that the country was headed for such control long before war started. The war did no more than greatly speed up the trend.

The underlying cause of attempts to freeze prices, wages and other costs, can be described in four words—government spending beyond income. For years the people have been warned of what this kind of spending was leading to. War has brought home the folly of annual government deficits without limit, in a way that will be remembered for many generations.

The war will not end the "emergency" of borrowed money. That is why some people who fear the consequences of excessive government borrowing, are turning to increasingly dictatorial government, in the hope of escaping the inevitable price of unlimited government borrowing.

It is a vicious circle—the more the government borrows, the more it must control. The only winners will be those who want to see American representative government and the freedom of the people destroyed. The only ones who can break the circle are the people themselves, by revolting against both peacetime borrowing and regulation.

President Truman is a hard-headed, practical country lawyer who demands value for every cent spent. The nation hopes that he may be able to curb this spree of extravagance after the war.

During World War I America was fed propaganda on the atrocities of the Germans. America had to be made mad enough to fight. The same has not been true in this war. While the Germans were over-running their neighbors and gobbling up the little nations of Europe, there were plenty of stories of atrocities coming from our press representatives who were then in Germany. After America entered the war, we heard only rumors of atrocities. Now that our troops are cooping up the fanatical Nazis and over-running German territory, the real truth is being told. General Eisenhower has invited Congress to send a delegation to investigate for itself. He has the proof, and wants the people to know the truth before the death blow is given Hitler and his gang. It is sure and certain that there shall be no soft peace for Germany this time. If the United Nations can stay united, Germany will not be able to wiggle out of the terms which will be written and enforced during the years which are to come.

It is now revealed that Russian diplomats in Washington have been combing the record and life of President Truman since the conference at Yalta. Stalin realized that Roosevelt was a sick man and might not last long. Churchill beat Stalin by getting Anthony Eden to Washington post haste to see the new President. Truman was successful in getting Stalin to send Molotov to the San Francisco conference—something that Roosevelt had failed to do. But Molotov did not come until Stalin made his move regarding Poland. Stalin wants to get first hand information about Truman. Stalin is still very suspicious of the British, and no doubt was a little perplexed that Eden should rush right over to meet Truman without waiting for Molotov. The international plot thickens.

The peace conference meeting in San Francisco has a difficult job. European power politics; national suspicions; racial, political, religious, economic differences are staggering in proportion. These are problems which America does not understand. If Canada and Mexico were strong, aggressive, military nations on whom we had to keep an eye all the time; if we had to keep a strong military force on both of these borders; we should better understand

WHEN POLITICS SPELLS TRAGEDY

Criticism of the calibre of treatment being received by war veterans in the veterans' hospitals throughout the nation, is spreading with the rapidity of a prairie fire. American men in the armed forces on active duty receive the best medical care in the world. But when they are retired to the status of veterans and are referred to the tender mercies of the Veterans' Administration, they are subjected to incredibly poor hospital and medical care, according to reports. They have been receiving this kind of abuse apparently because the veterans' hospitals are swamped in red tape and high authorities are politicians rather than medical experts. Altogether, it is a shameful episode, and not the least tragic fact is that it will take precious time to effect a clean-up.

With public opinion aroused, there will undoubtedly be an investigation—a bill has already been introduced in Congress demanding a thorough one. But there will be interminable delays while the bureaucratic machinery of government turns out endless reports. Some day, months or years from now, veterans lying helpless in wards of these government hospitals who all this time are getting care which would not be countenanced for a moment in a modern hospital, may get relief, if still alive.

This is what happens when politics is mixed with medicine. It is a terrible example that should awaken all of us to the danger of hasty action on the question of how far we permit government to go in controlling civilian medical care. A mistake could mean lowered medical standards and the needless sacrifice of countless lives.

the problems of Europe. America is a peaceful nation, and we want to remain peaceful.

DEFTLY HANDLED
It happened the other day in one of the smarter restaurants. A customer sat down and deftly tied his napkin about his neck.

There was a whispered conference, in which the manager instructed the waiter not to hurt the customer's feelings, but to make him understand, somehow, that this wasn't being done here.

The waiter approached his customer with a gentle smile. "Shave, sir, or haircut?"

Judge looking at the docile husband, "What induced you to hit your wife?" With a small shrug the little man answered, "Well, she had her back to me, she was bent over, the frying pan was handy, and the back door was open. So—I just took a chance."

V-NEWS

Now that spring is here, perhaps some of you are ready for the cleaning jobs which we associate with this time of the year. Work may be lessened if we pass on to others some of the housecleaning tricks which we have found successful.

To freshen wooden furniture by removing spots and adding lustre, try a dry sudsing. To make the suds, pour one-fourth cup of mild soap flakes in a mixing bowl and slowly add one fourth cup lukewarm water beating constantly with a rotary beater. With a cloth wrung almost dry out of hot water, apply a bit of the dry suds to a small area of the wood rubbing with the grain. At once rinse with a very slightly moist cloth and rub with a dry cloth. Follow with a good wax and polish well. If the furniture is badly scratched, a color restorer may be applied after the cleaning and before the wax.

In cleaning window glass and and mirrors, the use of old newspaper for washing and polishing eliminates lint, saves laundry, and leaves gleaming glass. Though paper is scarce, cloth is perhaps even more so. If the glass is a little greasy, the use of ammonia in the water will help.

If your glass curtains are to the point where they just will not hold up to another washing, yet you want them to look fresher, try airing them on a fairly still day and then press them using a damp cloth.

For the copper which has tarnished, use a mixture of vinegar and salt.

And to make the flat silver look new again, place it in an old aluminum pan so that every piece will touch some part of the pan. Measure in enough water to cover and for each quart of water used, add one teaspoon each of soda and salt. Heat, rise, and dry well. This should not be used on silver having a French gray finish.

OUR DEMOCRACY by Mat' OVER THE WILDERNESS ROAD--TO THE WEST

THE APPALACHIANS STOOD AS A BARRIER TO COLONIZATION UNTIL IN 1769 DANIEL BOONE BLAZED THE TRAIL THROUGH CUMBERLAND GAP TO KENTUCKY. THAT NARROW TRAIL BECAME THE "WILDERNESS ROAD" OVER WHICH BOONE LED THE FIRST BOLD SETTLERS TO THE "RICH LANDS" OF THE WEST--LANDS THAT WERE TO TEST THEIR METTLE THROUGH YEARS WHEN THEY FACED COLD--STARVATION--DISAPPOINTMENT--WAR.

THE LANDS BOONE OPENED UP ARE THE FERTILE BLUE-GRASS REGIONS, THE PRODUCTIVE OHIO AND TENNESSEE VALLEYS OF TODAY... BUT MORE IMPORTANT, HE SHOWED THE WAY TO ALL THE WEST--AND THE PIONEERING SPIRIT OF THOSE EARLY SETTLERS--THEIR STAMINA--THEIR COURAGE IN TRIUMPHING OVER HARDSHIP HAVE BECOME PART OF THE HERITAGE OF OUR DEMOCRACY.

Vocational Study Will Be Stressed After the War

T. M. Moore spoke Tuesday at the Rotary Club luncheon, discussing vocational training after the war.

Mr. Moore stated that a large per cent of the nation's workers are dislocated because of the war. There are about 12 million men and women in the armed forces; 25 million engaged in primary and secondary war work; 5 million carrying on new agricultural work, as part time workers and in Victory gardens; 11 million between the ages of 16 and 21 whose training has been interrupted or delayed; several million new workers, largely women, who have taken public jobs.

Practically one-third of the nation's population is undergoing economic and social changes. This affects the balance of the nation's population.

As a result of the war, a huge reserve of purchasing power is being built up. The United States Chamber of Commerce believes this will run up to 15 billions of dollars in War Bonds and savings accounts. This creates a huge backlog for business as people will need homes, furnishings, automobiles and other necessities after the war.

Three types of training will be open to these people following the war: Professional, 1 to 5 years. This will affect not more than 5% of the population. Semi-professional, 1 to 3 years, which will affect 70% of the population; Vocational.

Colleges are getting ready to take care of the vocational needs. Mr. Moore expects to see Junior Colleges expanded, with courses of study to fit individual localities.

Mr. Moore has been away from Canyon for two years, and returned because he feels this section has a wonderful future. West Texas State has adopted a program which will fit the needs of the people of this section and the industries which exist in this vicinity.

Visitors were: Van H. Allen, Forrest Barnes, J. Harry Brown, Bob Dorough, E. Kancher, Alex Kesse, J. J. Sanders, H. P. Robertson, L. A. Vahue, all of Amarillo; Fred Wilson of Kress; J. W. Reid of Lubbock.

Dr. D. A. Shirley Re-named to State Committees

Dr. D. A. Shirley was away from the campus early this month attending to official business of the college. On April 3 he attended a Committee on Standards of the Association of Texas Colleges in Dallas. On the next day he attended the Executive Committee meeting of the Association.

These two committees were the first of the association to meet this year because of war time restrictions. A new commission was set up called the Texas Association of Coordinators of Veterans' College Education.

Other business attended to at the meetings was that of the president filling all positions that had expired in the various committees and commissions. The association had voted by mail to hold over officers for one year.

Dr. Shirley was re-appointed to the Committee on Standards and Classifications for three years, and appointed to the Commission on Coordination in Education in Texas for a three year term.

THANKS

I wish to thank the people of Canyon and Randall county for their fine patronage during the years that I have been owner of the Palace Cafe. I certainly appreciate all of the kindness which has been extended to Mrs. Hair and myself.

Mr. J. E. Stokes of Stephenville has bought the business and has taken charge today. I hope that all of you will continue to give your patronage to the business to Mr. Stokes.

along the

Soon travelers will be seeing plots of beets, beans, tomatoes, corn and other needed vegetables "coming along" on both sides of our tracks.

For once again Santa Fe has made its right-of-way available to its employees for Victory Gardens.

We are also offering $2720.00 in War Bonds to our best Victory Gardeners as an added incentive toward helping "Food Fight for Freedom."

Located as we are "Along the Route to Tokyo," Santa Fe people throughout our 13,093 miles of track can "feel" this war. They are working full hours to move along the never-ending loads of guns, tanks, men and munitions.

Perhaps that's another reason why they're not only working harder on their railroad jobs, but are pretty fine War Bond buyers and Victory Gardeners as well.

It's Santa Fe all the way for the U.S.A.!

The old countryman was seeing the sights of London and at a Labor Exchange he saw a sign on the door—"Women's Exchange." Entering he found a woman clerk glaring at him from behind a counter, and he asked: "Is this the Women's Exchange?"

"Yes," came the curt reply.

"And are you the woman?"

"Yes."

"Then I'll stick to Martha."

Old Office Game

McClure Syndicate—WNU Features.

LEONADUS PLINE sat behind his glass-topped desk with expensively groomed, impregnable assurance. A pucker of a pout formed around his lips that two hours later would methodically smack their way through the contents of a luncheon tray which his secretary, Miss Seacy, would bring to him.

At the moment Miss Seacy, her notebook on her knee, darted an apprehensive look at him.

"This water," he began, turning distastefully away from the silver jug at his elbow.

In a comprehending flash Miss Seacy clutched the pitcher and tipped from his carpeted office. In a few seconds she was back with it freshly filled. She handed a goblet of water across the desk and expectantly sat down again. All I need, she thought rebelliously, is a palm leaf to wave across his brow.

But should anyone have glanced at her through the door he would have seen only a small trim figure in black, with a strand of pearls at her throat, a coronet braid of dark hair setting off her quietly pretty features.

Abruptly Mr. Pline raised a large, pale, well-cared-for hand to remove his nose glasses that all through the day would be shifted from nose to desk and from desk to nose. "You may put aside your book," he said ceremoniously.

Miss Seacy's pretty lips parted in astonishment. "Yes, m'lord," mentally replied her unruly mind. "What have I done now?" it continued rakishly.

"Miss Seacy," resumed Mr. Pline's best executive voice. "Do you realize that today is a very special day?"

Miss Seacy's brown eyes were suddenly wary.

"Today," intoned Mr. Pline, "marks the fifth anniversary of your employment in our company. I hardly need to tell you of the esteemed place you hold with us for the loyal and capable service you have rendered. And in behalf of this commendable record in length of time and quality of service I wish to present you with this token of my appreciation." Expansively he handed a large, finely textured envelope to Miss Seacy.

Carefully she pulled out the unsealed flap and drew forth an ornately bordered and embossed document. The elegantly engraved message announced to an indifferent world that Miss Joanna Louise Seacy, by virtue of five years of service in the L. A. Pline Company was duly entitled to this Certificate of Merit.

That was all. No green bills. No bonus. Miss Seacy looked like a child who had just bitten into a disappointing piece of candy. But Mr. Pline in his glow of benevolence did not notice. "As the years go on," he beamed, "I hope to add many more."

"Oh, no, Mr. Pline," said Miss Seacy's mutinous mind within her. "Not for little Joanna." She managed to say, "Thank you, Mr. Pline." And then she heard herself adding, "Thanks for opening my eyes, too. I didn't realize I'd been plugging away here that long. Remember the morning I came? I was a bright-eyed infant of twenty. I could have kissed you for letting me enter these sacred doors to learn the business from the ground up for Deb Parade Frocks. And I was soon to realize my dream—planning sales promotion for Deb Parade. Assistant to Helene, that's what I was to be. Assistant in sales promotion, because I was a Girl with Ideas. And while I was still in my youthful daze someone led me to the files and I got lost there for a couple of years. Then I doubled for a dictaphone operator one day and was lost there for another year. So far as I can see Helene has never had an assistant in her life. As a result, I've been filling shorthand books for you for three years.

"Mr. Pline, I'm just beginning to see myself in a very discouraging light. I'm not blaming you. I'm sitting here with the sudden realization that I've been dumb. I'm not a step nearer to sales promotion than I ever was. 'I tank I go home,' Mr. Pline." She whirled out of her chair.

"One moment," ordered Mr. Pline dramatically. "For five years I've been waiting for you to tell me that you're ready to promote Deb Parade. Background? Of course you needed background. Was it my fault that it took you five years to speak up? In my company the go-headers have to do that. You're in sales promotion now, Miss Seacy. You're not Helene's assistant. You're in charge. Let's see what you can do."

Miss Seacy's eyes were round with fear. "Oh, do you think I can do it?"

"None of that," majestically commanded Mr. Pline. "Promote!"

All eyes were upon Miss Seacy as she made her way to her desk. "That was a long session," remarked Helene. "Are you quitting too?"

"No. I've been promoted." Then she was struck with the meaning of Helene's question. "Did you say 'quitting too?' Are you quitting?"

"Certainly. I gave notice about an hour ago. Effective in two weeks."

"Why that old windbag!" exclaimed Miss Seacy. There was reluctant admiration in her voice.

Business is like a wheelbarrow, it stands still unless someone pushes it.

Once Populous Silver

City Down to One Man

SILVER CITY, IDAHO.—This once heavily populated mining town where 45s roared in by-gone years is now a ghost town—except for one man.

He's William Hawes, 67-year-old native, who claims to be mayor and police force for the city of empty buildings. In his spare time, he works on an automobile he started building seven years ago, patterned after racing automobiles of 1915 vintage.

"The cold winters and loneliness are a little too much for me."

A Tale of Boys, Police

And Too Many Rabbits

SPOKANE, WASH.—Detectives Mike Vecchio and Harry Davenport rounded up two teen age boys who admitted looting rabbit hutches.

For two hours Vecchio and Davenport drove around town, returning to owners the bunnies the boys had given them.

But the boys must have had the rabbits in their possession quite a little while.

The detectives found they had more rabbits than owners.

Prelate Finds Rebirth

Of Religion in Russia

LONDON.—Back from Moscow, the archbishop of York told a press conference there had been a resurgence of religion in Russia.

"The terrible losses and sufferings of the war have brought again into the open what was always latent—the deep religious strain in the Russian national character," he said.

"It would be absurd to pretend that this is universal. There are large numbers who conscientiously reject all belief in God."

Nerves From Corpses

Transferred to Living

CHICAGO.—For the first time in medical history, the American Medical Association Journal reports, nerve sections from the bodies of dead persons have been grafted to the severed nerves of the living.

A newly developed surgical technique employing a special vitamin-fortified glue has made it possible to restore the functions of the peripheral nerves which, when undamaged, supply sensation and motion to the limbs, the journal said.

Most State Prisons Are

Engaged in War Work

CHICAGO.—A survey reported by the council of state governments showed that inmates of virtually every state prison are engaged in war or agricultural work and that at least one penitentiary has added night shifts to meet its heavy production schedule.

Some of the huge anti-submarine cable nets protecting harbor installations and waterways are being woven by hand by inmates of San Quentin, the California state prison.

THAT EXPLAINS IT

The hard-working gift-shop clerk had vainly ransacked the whole of his shop in his efforts to please an old lady who wanted to purchase a present for her granddaughter. For the fiftieth time she picked up and critically examined a neat little satchel.

"Are you quite sure that this is genuine alligator skin?" she inquired.

"Positive, madam," quoth the dealer, "I shot that alligator myself."

"It looks rather soiled," said the lady.

"That madam, is where it struck the ground when it fell off the tree."

WE'LL GET BY

CHS students lately may have been complaining a little—and with some reason, for it is natural that they want to get as much as they can out of high school life.

But the trouble is that now that the war is about over in Europe, too many people seem to think pre-war conditions should return immediately, and a few students want school activities to be conducted in such a way as might have been possible before the war.

Students, let's remember to bear with our school officials—they do the best they can for us in these times.

HELP IS NEEDED

Homemaking classes of Canyon High School are sponsoring a clothing drive this week. Each student is urged to bring all the clothes that are not being used as soon as possible.

All articles must be laundered, mended and tied in neat bundles. Old dresses, suits, jackets, shoes, overcoats and all other pieces of clothing are badly needed in the war torn European countries.

If you have any contributions to make to this worthy cause do so as soon as you can. Bring them to the second floor of the high school building.

A former student, Jimmy Bagwell, withdrew from Mrs. L. M. Cousins' room, and moved to San Jon, New Mexico.

Mrs. John Davis was honored with a surprise birthday party last Wednesday by the 6-D class. The class presented her with individual gifts and Carl Gene Crow pinned on her corsage. GOT A DATE?

Due to the man power shortage and the evident timidity of the men, the Press Club is sponsoring a Date Bureau for the Junior-Senior Banquet. Canyon High School "hopefuls" for next year's football eleven had a scrimmage last Friday afternoon. They have had to practice in the gym the last few days because of rain.

Since Canyon's track was wet, the Regional Track Meet Tuesday was transferred to Lubbock. Charles Taylor represented Canyon High in the shot put contest.

Plans are being made to have a boys' intramural contest in soft ball when the weather clears up.

Tomorrow afternoon the final girls' intramural volleyball game will be played. The seniors were the only ones until Monday who had played two games and won both.

Members Discuss Program Scenes

Picnic and assembly program plans constituted the discussion in the Spanish I Club meeting Friday afternoon.

Club members and Mrs. Dan Sanders, sponsor, will go to the country club this afternoon for the first picnic of the second semester.

Plans for the assembly program to be given in a few weeks along with the Spanish II Club were discussed and a committee was appointed to complete arrangements.

Males Advise Spring Flea Extermination

Now that spring is here are you bothered with fleas? Have they begun their activities in your fur now that warm weather has arrived? Some people do have this trouble, so here's our yearly article on how to "de-flea."

Here are the theories we have in mind, or rather, I should say the theories of Tommy Thompson and Earl Lock Neff. They should know, but they need just plain Bee-Brand—it's guaranteed.

Tommy says to take a flea and two boards—that's all you need. Place the flea on one board and swiftly bring the two sticks together—it never fails.

But then—what's wrong with what Earl Lock has to say on the matter? Here's all you have to do. Catch one choice flea and dip him in a barrel of flour. Then place him back among your hairs. All of the other little fleas will think he is a ghost of one of their ancestors and all promptly die of fright.

When it's time to "de-flea," don't delay.

JARRETT DRUG CO.

Well, here we go again on the merry-go-round for the facts and figures about some of the local gossip. Maybe you can forward your intellect in some way by reading this column.

It looks as if Harold Erwin and Harley Hicks have some new females on their string. Wonder how they do it or what their line is?

Spence Winn's pick-up sure does come in handy for these Saturday night rides. Some even like it better than being in a nice warm car.

It must be kinda difficult maneuvering for a girl to have two dates with two different men on one Friday night. Be sure and tell us how you made out, Zonelle.

Ellen Sanders practically had to sprout a new set of wings in order to make it back to Canyon in time for her 6:30 date Sunday. She tried anyway.

Ray McDonald seems to think that the new junior girl, Lee Mann, is O. K. I hear she is already looking the crop over for a date to the Junior-Senior Banquet.

Geneva McDougal carries on the most interesting conversations with a certain senior boy every Monday afternoon.

Dick Milford is flirting with the undertaker when he asks Dorothy Gaffard for a date, because Jean Bourgeois has a good left and Charles Ray Kelso has a mighty right hook.

Don Standley and Charles Taylor sure made a quick trip to Amarillo Sunday night to be with such cute girls. Wasn't the atmosphere right or just what was the trouble, if any?

Fall has fell,
Winter has gone,
And it's hotter than usual.

Return of Lovey Climaxes
Husband's Household Day

Portraying the "snap" a woman is supposed to have in keeping house, the sophomore class presented "Apple Pie," a twelve scene play, in assembly Friday.

Dovey, played by Dick Milford, scolded his wife, Lovey (Frances Gooch) because she never seemed to have time to make him an apple pie. He decided to stay home while Lovey went shopping and show her how smoothly he could run a household and how easily he could prepare a meal.

After being interrupted by a vacuum cleaner salesman (Harold Prichard), a newspaper salesman (Wilbert Long), a silk stocking salesman (Betty Ann Miller), a brush lady (Zonelle Gregg), a flirtatious neighbor, Mrs. Brown, who liked to talk (Billie Jo Wallen), a borrowing neighbor who was always running out of supplies (Gracie Boyd), and Junior (James Riggsby), who was always getting into fights and getting hurt, he decided to take the family out to dinner.

To top everything off, Lovey returned home to tell Dovey she had purchased a new vacuum cleaner and a dozen pairs of silk hose, the very same things Dovey had purchased from salesmen who had bothered him all day!

Queer language, English.

For example, a novelist says that his heroine "went off in a huff," probably a 1941 model huff. And the hero "left with misgivings" but without nothing is said as to whether she was a blonde or a brunet. And somebody is always firing at somebody else named "Random" or "Will."

A character in a short story was always "devouring books with relish," probably tomato catsup. And, a speaker who was struck in the face with a squashy tomato, declared, "There is more to this than meets the eye."

Met a man a while back who said that Jim Farley's wonderful memory for names and faces is largely a myth. This informant, who lives in a Western state, said he was a member of a committee that traveled with the former Postmaster General all day and at the last three stops, the committee member—just for the fun of it—got into line, as though he were a local citizen and filed by genial Jim. Each time, the citizen gave his name and each time (so he said) Farley shook hands with him and expressed pleasure at meeting him.

George Washington gave 16 years to serving our nation, gloriously and unselfishly, as commander of the Revolutionary army that won independence and as the first President. Yet when Washington retired from the Presidency a Philadelphia editor wrote:

"Every heart in unison with the freedom and happiness of the people ought to beat high with exaltation that the name of Washington from this day ceases to give currency to political iniquity and to legalized corruption."

"It is a subject of the greatest astonishment that a single individual should have carried his designs against the public liberty so far as to have put in jeopardy its very existence. Such, however, are the facts and, with these staring us in the face, this day ought to be a jubilee in the United States."

An agent knocked at a residence door and said to the man of the

Some experts on international affairs—Britain's Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, for instance—regard the United Nations Conference opening April 25 in San Francisco as a "last chance" for permanent world peace. That it can affect the lives of individuals and the well-being of nations for generations to come is indicated by close attention being paid to the prospective program by all countries invited to participate. Delegates of the U. S. include Secretary of State Edward R. Stettinius, Jr.; ex-Secretary of State Cordell Hull; Miss Virginia Gildersleeve, Dean of Barnard College; Rep. Sol Bloom of New York, a Democrat; Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan, a Republican; Rep. Charles A. Eaton of Illinois, a Republican; Comdr. Harold E. Stassen, a Republican, who left the governorship of Minnesota to enter Navy service; Sen. Tom Connally of Texas, a Democrat.

house, "I have something here which will bring you a host of new friends." The man said, "I'll take a quart."

Fairview Breezes

Good rains the past week were greatly appreciated by the farmers.

We were glad to welcome the Lightfoot family and Mrs. Styers and children to Sunday School and church Sunday. We are glad to have them as friends and neighbors.

Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Wann from Tuolumne, Calif., are expected to arrive in a few days to visit with Mrs. Wann's mother, Mrs. H. C. Evans. This is the first time the Wanns have visited in this vicinity since leaving here 44 years ago. Mrs. Wann is a sister of Mrs. J. W. Wesley, Mrs. G. E. Wesley and Mrs. George Schaeffer.

Mrs. C. M. Rogers is still with her daughter, Mrs. L. H. Barnard.

Bro. Tildon preached Sunday for Bro. Garrison who is in a revival at Baileyboro.

Friends and neighbors surprised Mrs. E. M. Wilson Sunday with a cup towel and pillowcase shower. A covered dish luncheon was served at noon.

Misses Lavinia and Vesta Amerson, Evelyn and Anna Belle Schaeffer visited in the F. O. Amerson home Sunday afternoon.

Muddy roads cut the attendance at the meeting of the Centerview Club in the home of Mrs. T. G. Knox Friday afternoon.

SCIENTIFIC DATUM

It was at Mount Wilson observatory:

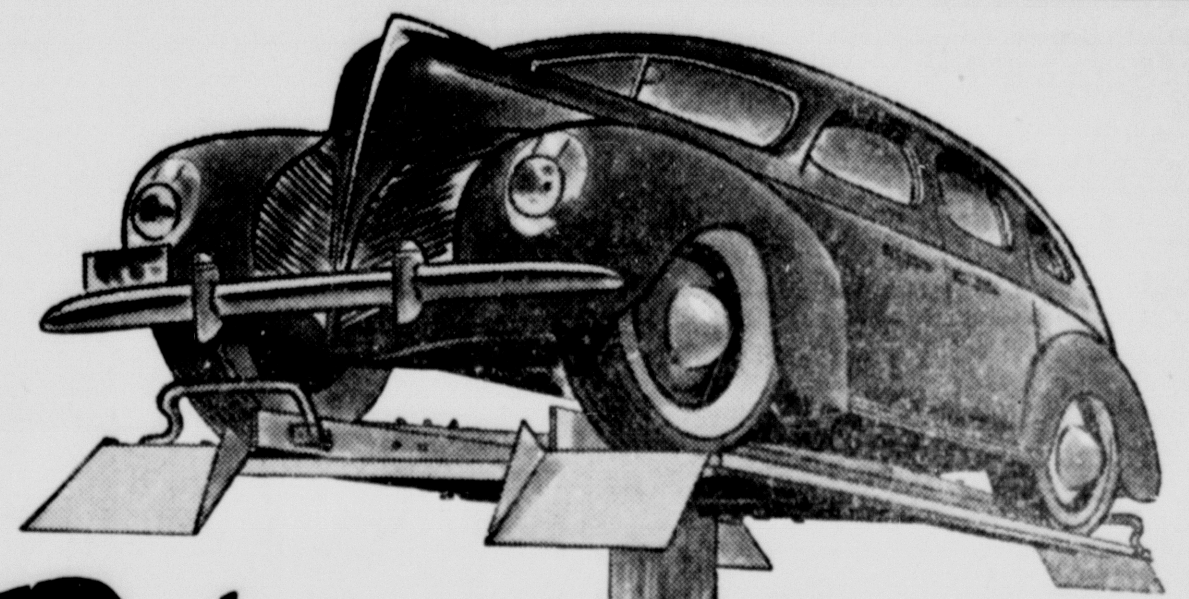

A distinguished scientist was scanning the heavens through the huge telescope. Intent upon the sight, he remarked to his colleagues without turning around: "It's going to rain."

"What makes you think so?" inquired one of his fellow scientists. "Because," said the scientist, still peering at the heavens, "my corns hurt."

His corns drive him crazy, But he is too lazy To bath them in soda solution.

Put your car on a pedestal!

THE LADIES, bless 'em

... so frequently placed on a pedestal themselves ... are playing a most important part in seeing that the family car gets regular lubrication and maintenance service.

American wives, experts in balancing the family budget, know that the war effort requires careful budgeting of every mile remaining in both cars and tires. They realize that "Care for your car—for your country" is more than a slogan; that it is an absolute must, if the threatened breakdown in homefront transportation is to be prevented.

That is why they so regularly remind Friend Husband to change oil, to check tires, to get regular and complete chassis lubrication.

And we'd like to remind you that your Phillips 66 Service Man is waiting and ready to do his patriotic part to help make your care and tires last longer and go farther.

His Phillips Tire-Saving Service includes checking air pressures ... inspecting for nail holes, cuts, and bruises ... crisscrossing with the spare every three thousand miles ... examination of the tire carcass to warn you when re-capping is necessary.

His Phillips Car-Saving Service includes inspection of battery, air filter, radiator, and oil-level ... regular lubrication of every friction point specified by the maker of your car.

So drive in at the Orange and Black 66 Shield ... the sign of famous Phillips 66 Gasoline and Phillips 66 Motor Oil ... a good sign that you've come to the right place for car-saving and tire-saving service.

Three small boys were bragging about the prowess of their dads. The first boy said: "My dad writes a few short lines, calls it a poem, sends it away and gets ten dollars for it."

"My dad," spoke the second lad, "makes some dots on a piece of paper, calls it a song, sends it away and gets twenty-five dollars for it."

"That's nothing," spoke up the third, "my father writes out a sermon on a sheet of paper, gets up in the pulpit and reads it and it takes four men to bring in the money."

PLAYING SAFE

"Your neighbors are honest, I hope?" someone asked the old Negro.

"Yassir, dey is."

"But you keep that loaded shotgun near your hen coop."

"Yas, dat's to keep 'em honest."

THE PROOF WAS THERE

"It says the man was shot by his wife at close range."

"Then there must have been powder marks on the body."

"Yes, that's why she shot him."

A Ft. Worth motorist fined $25.00 in city court told the judge: "That's too high; that's above the ceiling. I'm going to call O. P. A." He did. The fine remained $25.00.

They raised the Flag again on Corregidor...

Let's raise the money in the MIGHTY SEVENTH

OUR FLAG flies once again over Corregidor. The cost was great in blood and pain, but our fighting men did not turn back. And on Iwo Jima, four thousand men—more and more—died to take the long step forward to Victory. Twenty thousand others suffered wounds. Yes, we're on the way to Tokyo!

At home, your contribution to Victory is measured in dollars. The Seventh War Loan is the biggest in America's history because seven billion dollars must be raised from individuals alone. That means you must buy more and bigger War Bonds.

This is really two great loans in one; for this time last year you had been called upon twice to subscribe in War Loans. As our fighting men raise Old Glory all over the world—let's raise the money back home!

No Ban Against Subscriptions to The Canyon News

Subscriptions to the Canyon News may be renewed, and new subscriptions accepted. Some readers have been under the false impression that The News could not accept new subscriptions. The ban on news print does not apply to weekly newspaper, as it does to daily newspapers. Any citizen who wishes to become a regular reader of The Canyon News may subscribe now.

It is different with daily newspapers. No daily newspaper can accept new subscriptions. Those whose subscriptions will expire soon are warned to make their renewals now and not run the risk of being cut off the list for the duration. The daily newspapers are not to blame. The publishers must reduce their use of paper, and the only way to do this is to hold their circulation, and reduce their advertising. The News will handle these renewals for you.
